

2nd Annual Materials Innovation & Advanced Technology Leadership Forum

JANUARY 25-26
2023

Huntington Beach, California

Composites for Sustainable Energy & Transportation Applications

Sponsorship and Marketing Opportunities

SAMPE is bringing together technical and business executives from aerospace, automotive, energy, and other vertical markets to discuss how composites can be the key enablers in new and emerging applications. This year's forum will focus on the next-generation uses of composite materials in energy applications and how sustainable manufacturing and reuse of materials will be essential in designing and applying future composite structures.

Be a part of this critical conversation.
